HOLYROOD PALACE.

Historic Castle Has Been the Scene of Stirring Episodes.

Few regal edifices have undergone more vicissitudes than Holyrood Palace, which is now being subjected to several alterations and improvements to fit it for the occupation of King George and Queen Mary when they stay there in July. It occupies the site of Holyrood Abbey, founded in 1128 by King David I., on the spot where he was supposed to have been saved from an infuriated stag. The legend goes that the King was hunting in the forest of Drumleith, in the immediate vicinity of Edinburgh, and was assailed by an enraged stag, which unhorsed him, and probably would have put a very speedy end to his existence had not this Scottish monarch, like the first Christian Emperor, been favored of the saints.

As a reward for his piety, and in consideration of his great liberality to churchmen, a cross descended from Heaven in the moment of his danger, with which he stoutly attacked the beast. The latter, finding itself overpowered, quickly made its way out of the woods, and left the King and the cross masters of the situation. Thus to prove his gratitude to the saints who had interceded in his behalf, he founded the Abbey of Holyrood for the canons regular of St. Augustine. The canons were allowed many privileges, and succeeding monarchs added to the gifts of the founder. Holyrood Abbey becoming the most important of all religious institutions in Scotland. In due time a royal residence was erected close to it, although it is doubtful how soon it became the permanent home of the Kings of Scotland. Certain it is, however, that James IV. lived there. It was during his residence, on account of Mary having been celebrated in the chapel, that a revolutionary mob broke in and despoiled all the religious ornaments, leaving only the bare walls. The rioters even profaned the vault which had been used as the royal sepulchre, broke open the leaden coffins, and carried away the lids; but as the royal bones were not negotiable articles, the anti-Episcopalists were forced to leave them behind.

But worse misfortunes were still to come, and they came with Queen Mary. Her Majesty's misfortunes commenced at a very early period. The first Sunday after her arrival a mob beset the palace for the purpose of instructing her in the proper way of worshipping God. To such a pitch of enthusiasm had the spirit of these religious instructors risen that it was only with difficulty they were restrained from hanging the priest who at that moment was officiating in the chapel. Mary locked herself in her apartment with her Mass book and her father-confessor, while tumultuous zealots assailed the gates and pronounced themselves certain that the queen was making for eternal perdition, and must soon be utterly lost unless she listened to John Knox and abjured beads and images.

Then came the historic night of March 9th, 1568. As Mary and a small party were having supper, Darnley and Ruthven, followed by other conspirators, entered for the purpose of seizing David Rizzio, the accomplished Italian secretary and skilful musician, who had gained the Queen's confidence and roused the jealousy of the Presbyterian lords and ministers of the Kirk. Anticipating their purpose, Rizzio thrust himself behind the Queen and clung to her dress; but was stabbed by George Douglas, leaning over Mary's shoulders. During this exciting scene the Queen's husband held her fast in his arms, while another of the conspirators held a pistol at her breast. The room in which the fatal supper-party took place is still in existence.

Queen Mary's Daily Life.
According to a letter published in the Yorkshire Post, and written by a lady holding a high position at court, the Queen at 9.30 a.m. begins the day's work by going through her large correspondence (which has been previously opened) with two secretaries. Then come interviews with the governess, nurse, housekeeper, and the heads of departments in the palace. Then appointments with furniture makers and various trades-people till 1.30. In the afternoon Her Majesty visits an hospital or some charitable institution, or a picture gallery, or visits some other interesting place in or near London, such as the City churches, the halls of the various City companies, etc. After tea the Queen again summons her secretaries for more correspondence, and gives one or two interviews. After dinner she reads till 10.30, and then retires to rest. In the country, expeditions to historical or other interesting places in the neighborhood with some of her children are arranged, or some local charities or institutions are visited.

Dangerous to Use "Esquire."
The recovery of a letter which had been sent to a little town in Germany and never delivered to the person addressed cured the writer of the custom of adding "Esquire" to a name on the superscription of mail matter. The letter in question would probably have been promptly delivered had the address read simply, "Mr. John Brown." But the sender had addressed it, "John Brown, Esquire," and the communication rested comfortably in the "E" compartment of the post restante department, waiting to be called for by "Mr. Esquire." One of the popular guide books warns against the use of "Esq.," saying that it might be mistaken for a name.

Whole Wheat Bread.
London doctors interested in the nutritive value of foodstuffs have issued a document in which they recommend the use of whole meal in making bread instead of fine white flour. It is maintained that there are in the whole meal two and one-half times the amount of mineral substances that nourish the body.

Cannot Export Feathers.
Plumage, skins or eggs of native birds of Australia and New Guinea can no longer be exported, this having been prohibited by the Australian Commonwealth Government.

WESTERN FARMERS PROFITS IN TEN YEARS

He Pays Only $35 per Year in Duties on Implements—What 640 Acres Can Do.

A farmer writing to a Toronto daily paper from Indian Head, Saskatchewan, under the nom de plume, Saskatchewan Farmer, refutes the statement made by many Westerners, that the farms of the West have been ill-used by the Dominion Government, which is identified largely with Eastern interests. This Saskatchewan farmer gives a typical instance of the expenditure and revenue connected with a section of land, 640 acres, from the year 1900 to 1910. He says: "I will give you an idea of what a section of land, 640 acres, will earn and how it will increase in value in the most favored wheat producing districts of Saskatchewan under normal conditions, from 1900 to 1910, allowing the average price of land to be $10 per acre for that period. In so doing it should be borne in mind that 30 per cent. of the land in this province was Free Grant."

Capital Expenditure 1900.
Land, 640 acres at $10 per acre	$6,400.00
Cultivation, 440 acres at $5 per acre	2,640.00
Dwelling house	2,000.00
Stable for 12 horses, granary and implement shed	3,000.00
12 horses and harness	3,000.00
Duty
3 seed drills	$33.00
3 plows	30.50
2 disc harrows	10.00
2 six-section harrows	60.00
3 7-ft. binders	53.00
4 wagons, complete	72.00
One-sixth interest in threshing	125.00
Extras, say	20.00
	455.00
	$360.00
Crop for 10 years from 400 acres at 25 bush. to the acre	$75,000.00
Working expenses for ten years at $5 per acre	$32,000.00
Interest on capital for ten years at 6 per cent.	10,800.00
	42,800.00
Surplus (not taking into account increase in value of land, which may be figured at $18,000)	32,200.00

Duty on Implements
"Now note right here, that all a farmer working a section of land under these conditions would pay in duty on the implements required to earn this large profit, assuming the average life of same to be ten years, comes out at approximately $35 per annum. This is no exaggerated statement of profits and increase in value of land, as thousands of farmers in Saskatchewan can testify, and hundreds who have specially applied themselves and taken advantage of the opportunities at hand, have realized far greater profits than are here shown. How, then, can the farmers of the West claim that they have been ill-used, or not given a fair deal?"

Tough All Around
The tough customer was struggling with a tough steak in a tough restaurant.

"Say, you!" he finally roared at a waiter. "I ain't used to eatin' rhinoceros hide. Fetch me something a little more nourishin' in a hurry."

"Aw, fade away, little one!" said the pudgily waiter, witheringly. "What do you think this joint is—a diet kitchen?"—National Monthly.

"And are you still rejoicing in that splendid cook, Mrs. Malaprop?" inquired the caller.
"Well, we are and we ain't," said Mrs. Malaprop. "The fact is, my husband was completely prostrated by the work of my household that I've given her a three weeks' vacation. I was afraid if I didn't she would be invalidated termanently."—Harper's Weekly.

"A tramp after a day or two in our hustling, bustling town of Denver, shook the Denver dust from his boots with a snarl."
"They must be lazy people in this town. Everywhere you turn they offer you work to do."—Los Angeles Times.

A Book of Interest to Horse Owners
Every horse owner worthy of the name takes a natural and commendable pride in keeping his horse in prime condition. With sensible feeding, proper care and a reasonable amount of work, there is no trouble in doing this. Under such conditions a sound horse looks fine and feels well—is always ready for service and brings the top price when sold.

But accidents will happen, a slight wrench, a sprain, a cut, or some unknown cause may result in lameness. Spavins, ringbones, curbs or splints come sooner or later to every stable. Taken promptly and treated properly none of these troubles are serious. But if neglected or given the wrong treatment, they quickly decrease a horse's ability for work as well as his cash value. It is most important, therefore, that every horse owner should have a good knowledge of the horse, his ailments and diseases, and the remedies to be applied. He should know just how to treat all ordinary ailments, and just when it is necessary to call in the greater skill of the veterinary.

One of the quickest and best ways to get posted on this matter is to read the little book, "A Treatise on the Horse and His Diseases," published by the Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Enosburg Falls, Vermont. The information which it gives is simple, accurate, and easy to find—a valuable point in a book of reference.

This book can be had free of charge by simply writing the publishers or by asking for it at any drug store where Kendall's Spavin Cure is sold by almost every druggist in the country.

To Get Poisons From the Blood

You Have to Depend on the Filtering Process of the Liver and Kidneys

These Organs Alone Can Purify the Blood, and They Do Their Work Well when Helped by

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

No medical treatment can possibly purify the blood except as it sets in healthy working order the kidneys, liver and bowels.

To these organs is assigned the duty of filtering from the blood the poisonous waste matter which is left over when the nutritious elements are extracted from the food you eat. If they are not overworked or slow and sluggish in action they keep the blood pure and healthy.

For this reason Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills are the most satisfactory treatment you can possibly obtain to purify the blood. Their efforts are prompt, definite and certain. The liver action is quickened, the kidneys are invigorated, the regular movement of the bowels is assured. It is only a matter of a few hours until you begin to feel the benefits of this great medicine. Further use, as often as is necessary to keep these organs active, will cleanse and purify the blood and enable the digestive system to properly do its work.

Backache, headache, and bodily pains will disappear, and the fatigue which is an accompaniment of poisons in the system will give way to new vigor and energy. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A MOTHER'S PRAISE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. Allen Mason, Carleton, N.B., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets ever since I have had children and that is going on fifteen years. I have always found them entirely satisfactory for all the ailments of little ones and feel that I cannot praise them too highly." Mrs. Mason's praise is just that of thousands of mothers who consider Baby's Own Tablets the only safe and sure remedy to keep in the house for their little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IN WRONG ROOM.

Viscount Barrington Tells of Man Who Delivered a Speech to No Purpose.

As a young man, Viscount Barrington, who has kept his sixty-third birthday, served in the Coldstream Guards, but his military career was not a lengthy one, and he soon settled down as a country gentleman.

He is descended from John Shute, first Viscount Barrington, who twice came into a fortune in a very odd manner. John Wildman, of Beckett, in the first place, left him all his property, although he was in no way related to him, on the ground "that he was the most worthy of all his acquaintances." In the second place, his cousin Elizabeth married Mr. Francis Barrington, of Tolts, Essex, Sheriff of London, who, dying without issue, left his property to Mr. Shute, on the condition—which was promptly complied with—that he should take the name of Barrington.

The present Viscount, the owner of 8,400 acres, succeeded to the title in 1901. He tells the story of a man, just back from a jaunt in the woods, who was trying to tell a friend of the pleasant place where he had camped, the name of which for the moment he had forgotten.

"It was a bend of that fine trout stream up there, you know," he said, "though I can't remember the name. It's a sort of Indian name, means 'Weeping Water.'" "Oh," said his friend; "it must have been the Minneboohoo."

Another story concerns a gentleman who at a stockbrokers' meeting in a big office building insisted on making a long speech. When he had concluded, the chairman quietly asked the verbose orator whether he had quite done.
"Yes, sir, quite!" was the indignant reply.
"You will, consequently, permit me to answer you, sir?"
"Oh, certainly, if you can; but I defy you to do that."

"Well, then," said the chairman, calmly and with measured voice. "I have to inform you that you are in the wrong room, and addressing the wrong company. The speech you have just delivered should have been made in No. 6, first floor."

Three Hundred Miles of Offenders.
If all the people convicted last year of offences, great and small, in England, Scotland, and Ireland, were placed side by side, they would form a rank more than 300 miles long, or from London to some distance beyond Paris.

Of these the people guilty of really serious crimes—indictable offences—are nearly one-fourth, and they would cover thirty miles.

There would be seven miles of men and women who committed assaults, eleven miles of beggars, thirty-three miles of thieves and robbers, forty-three miles of drunkards.

The offenders sent to prison would extend to eighty-three miles, and those sentenced to pay a fine would form a rank about 230 miles long.

The cost of all these is so enormous in police, judges, and magistrates, court officials, prisons, and all the locks, bolts, safes, burglar alarms, and other defences, that if the workers necessary to earn the total amount of money required were placed side by side they would measure a line from fifty to sixty miles long—Answers.

London Police Busy.
The London police are working overtime in their efforts to get all crooks and undesirable aliens out of the way before coronation day. A special branch of 60 picked men, chosen for their knowledge of the gentlemen who are not well but ought to be, are now located at the principal hotels of London and the leading seaports to pick up American and continental crooks who would be better away from England in June.

On coronation day besides the troops there will be 20,000 uniformed policemen along the line of the parade. They will be drawn strictly from the metropolitan area and no man will be from the provinces. There will be more than 900 plain clothes men from Scotland Yard under command of Chief Superintendent Frost, who will arrest crooks on sight. They will be imprisoned and deported immediately. The number of arrests already made shows the keenness of the Scotland Yard men in the matter of undesirable aliens.

A Costly Tuft.
On the apex of the crown worn by the Prince of Wales on special occasions is a curious feather, or rather tuft of feathers, the top of which is adorned with a gold thread.

The value of this feather is estimated at $50,000, and it has the distinction of being the only one of its kind in human possession. Twenty years passed after the first hunter set out to procure the feather before it was attained, and during that period more than a dozen hunters had lost their lives in the quest.

The costly tuft is of periwinkle feathers, and the extraordinary danger incurred in procuring it was due to the fact that the peacock is to be found only in dense jungles in which tigers make their lair.

Australia to Change Coinage.
Australia seems likely to follow Canada in the establishment of a decimal money system. The House of Representatives has a proposed by a large majority a resolution for the establishment of such a system, in weights and measures as well as in money, and she has the next Imperial Conference to consider the matter for the whole Empire.

If Great Britain regards this favorably, the sovereign will probably make the unit. If not, the dollar, in any case, the colony intends to institute the reform as to money at least, on its own account.

Gradations in Exercise.
Acquaintance—Mudge, you look tired. Still holding that job in the department store? It's time you were promoted.
Young Father—Well, I have been, a sort of way. I'm a counter-jumper by the daytime and a doorwalker at night.

Coffee was first introduced into the Netherlands during the second half of the seventeenth century. In the Netherlands and still more in other countries of Europe chicory is used in the preparation of coffee to make the drink stronger and to give it a darker color.

"No. I've heard of stationary engines lots of times."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a running sound or impediment in hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases of deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH CURE. Sent by mail. Free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toronto.

Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

TRAVELING IN INDIA.

Changes of Temperature Necessitate Wide Range of Clothes.

Everybody when on a journey in India carries his own bedding, and outside the large establishments of the Government officials everywhere it is needed. You are supposed to carry your own bedding with you just as you carry your own tooth-brush. In the trains—and there are very long train journeys, by slow trains, in India—in the guest-houses of the native princes, in camp, of course, always, and in the hotels and inns, your own bedding is a necessity. Indeed, you can scarcely carry too much in India if you wish to be comfortable.

All sorts of clothing, from fur coats to the thinnest of linen, all sorts of hats from a cap to a pith helmet, a spirit lamp, a folding table and chair, a small amount of tinned or bottled food and a supply of mineral water for the train, a large supply of linen and underclothing, for one changes them often, and the laundry work is done by beating on flat stones.

The changes of temperature from noon till midnight are startling. One must give up cold baths and take tepid or hot water, and be careful, indeed, what, and how much, one eats and drinks. No alcohol before sunset, and very little then, and the plainest and most nourishing food. In this land, as large almost as the whole of Europe, there are only a few large cities, where one can buy any of the luxuries or comforts of life outside the obvious, and what you need you carry with you. On a large scale you do what the native does, you carry your household gods and goods about with you.

How differently "pick up your bed and walk" sounds in your ears when you see a whole population of hundreds of millions actually carrying their beds with them whenever they move. Why should one take heed as to what one shall eat, or drink, or wear when a handful of rice, a thimbleful of water, and a loin-cloth surface. The group of servants in front of their master's door at the hotel, or the hundreds of families traveling by train, by bullock-cart, or even on foot, have squeezed and sifted life's necessities down to the vanishing point.

One of the Tallest Officers.

Lieutenant-General J. M. Grierson has had a long and varied career in the army, and is generally regarded as one of the best of what may be described as our younger generation of soldiers. His abilities were first discovered by Sir Evelyn Wood, whose right hand on Salisbury Plain he was for some years. Since General Grierson is one of the tallest soldiers in the army at the present day, and Sir Evelyn Wood is, to put it mildly, below the middle height, the contrast between the two, when standing side by side, used to be most amusing, and the name of "Giant" and "Impudence" was bestowed upon them by some of the younger officers in the command. General Grierson has a very nice wit, and on one occasion, during manoeuvres, a Howitzer was fired before the sponge stick—the rod used for cleaning the weapons out after a shot has been fired—had been removed. The result was that the stick went sailing through the air, to fall to the ground some distance away. "One of the best efforts I ever saw to 'sweep' the enemy in front of you," was General Grierson's smiling remark to the officer in charge of the gun. It is considered probable that he will be given the command in India before the end of the year, and if this is so it will recall one of his aphorisms to the effect that "India is a mighty convenient place to send soldiers whose presence is not desired at home."

Caste Law.
It is difficult for a European to realize the insuperable barriers which separate the castes of India, but the following may be interesting. The Hindus are divided into over three thousand castes, most of them with sub-castes, speak about nineteen developed languages, and over one hundred dialects.

There are two essentials to a true caste: (1) There is no entry, except by birth; (2) marriage outside the caste is absolutely forbidden.

The highest caste is the Brahmins, admittedly and undoubtedly superior to all the rest. After them come those who are acknowledged to be twice born. The less honored follow in a graduated descent until the untouchable and uncleanable are reached at the lowest depth.

If a man is excommunicated by his caste-fellows, nobody in the caste will marry him. He is dead to his family. Nobody will eat or drink with him. If he is married his wife will not touch him or speak to him. The village barber will not shave him, and the washerman will not wash his clothes.—Indian Daily News.

Reviving Grist Mills.

English newspapers tell of an organization of 200 farmers of Hawarden to revive the ancient water wheel gristmills in their vicinity and grind there all the wheat reserved for their own use. Numbers of old country mills are elsewhere being put to a similar use. It is declared that the flour thus produced is "nutritious and fragrant beyond any other in the world."

A "Fifteen-Gunner."

The number of guns to be fired in honor of great officials and foreign potentates is carefully calculated, and the honor is jealously prized. King Edward conferred an inestimable boon on the Nawab of Junagadh when he raised his salute from eleven to fifteen guns. But this has caused the dusky prince to be fiercely envied by all the other Indian princes, who are only "eleven-gunners."

Musical Glasses.

Richard Pockrich, an Irishman, was the inventor of musical glasses—ordinary drinking glasses tuned by selection and played by passing wet fingers over the rim. He showed his invention first in Dublin and took it to London about 1750.

A GRIM SPECTRE.

Disease Is the Dread That Haunts Steamboat Captains.

Captain Mendus of R.M.S. Dominion realized more than anyone the other day that the anxieties of an emigrant liner's commander, do not end with the safe piloting of his ship through undreamt of perils across the Western Ocean.

There are three things the commander of a passenger liner has a wholesome dread of—fog, fire and disease. The former can be dealt with by slowing down and a frequent use of the ship's horn, and other precautions to minimize the risk of accident through the demon fog, and on a road of the seas is fog so relentlessly met with as making the Gulf, the Straits of Belle Isle and even in the Gulf itself.

Fire is a devastating terrifying agent, but with a good head of steam pumps and hose in good working order and the well drilled ship's fire brigade made compulsory on all passenger carrying liners nowadays a fire at sea is not so terrible a thing as it reads in cold and sensational print, and has taken place and been so effectively and promptly dealt with that the passengers have been in ignorance of its presence.

There is one thing every commander of a vessel, large or small, hopes and inwardly prays will never be his lot to contend with, and that is the grim spectre disease, and when its presence appears in so malignant and hideous a form as the dreaded cholera, he and the company whose flag the ship carries, are objects of deep and sincere sympathy.

There are no weapons fashioned to fight this insidious foe, time and isolation only can tell to what extent its ramifications have extended. To be almost within sight of Quebec—only forty miles away—and to be held up for days, possibly weeks—is cruel luck the severity of which is accentuated when it is remembered that it is through no fault of Captain Mendus, or any relaxation of the company's stringent hygienic rules of health, that the serious and irksome detention has been caused, detention, which however, is vitally necessary for the safeguarding of Canada's health from an epidemic of this dread scourge.

An Editor's Irony.

Time and time again editors have taken a fling at the people who seem to think that filling an editorial chair is a mighty simple, easy matter. Probably the best bit of irony on the matter is the following by Bob Lowery, one of the best-known newspapermen in Western Canada: "Every once in a while some cheerful individual remarks to us, 'Well, now that the paper is out, I suppose you can take it easy for three or four days.' Yes, how delightful it is that a country editor has nothing to do between press days. Business runs along automatically. When paper bills come due money drops off the trees with which to pay them. Subscribers vie with each other to see who can pay the farthest in advance. Advertisers beg for additional space. And the way the news hunts up the editor is also pleasant to contemplate."

"There is something strange about the way the news items act. When the paper is out the editor simply goes to his desk and leans back in his easy chair and looks wise and waits for next week's press day. The day before press day the people line up in front of the office door and then they file past the desk and tell him all the news of the week. He writes it up in fifteen or twenty minutes, takes it back and hangs it on a hook. The compositors take the copy and shake it over the type cases, say a few mystic words, the type flies into place, and after a few passes by the foreman the forms are ready for the press again. And the editor goes down and deposits some more money in the bank. It is the greatest snap in the catalogue. Now, if the editor could only go away with press day his job would be complete."

Slightly Mixed.

A prominent Toronto firm has received the following communication from a French firm, which is evidently dealing in stamps:

"A great many people have postage stamps who sleep in their archives; in old correspondences or, have the easiness to obtain stamps in their relations."

"THE MAISON M—solicit offers from every person who has stamps in their possession, because it is the Firm who payed the highest the lots, collections and archives."

"STAMPS by 100, 1,000, 10,000 or more, and ALL TIME CASH."

"When doing offer, please, give samples and details. Serious correspondents (for addressing stamps of the news issues as fast as their application) are wanted from all countries."

"The MAISON M—apply one's self of Commission an Exportation, and put herself on the disposition of her correspondents for get to them every goods they COULD WANT ON THE PLACE OF PARIS."—Canadian Courier.

The Three Rivals.

March building statistics for Winnipeg show a decrease in totals of a million and a half dollars compared with the same month last year, says The Winnipeg Telegram. Vancouver, on the other hand, reported an increase of more than a million dollars for the same period. The non-taxing of improvements in the British Columbia city is responsible for this magnificent result. No other cause could have enabled Vancouver to outstrip Winnipeg. Even at that the Manitoba city has done exceedingly well. But Calgary—well, her increase during the month of March last was greater than the total reported for the same month last year. An increase of nearly $600,000 is a handsome exhibit for the city which a few years ago was a cow town at the foot of the Canadian hills.

FADING AT THIRTY

When Woman Should be in the Prime of Charm and Beauty

At thirty to thirty-five a woman should be in the prime of charm and beauty, and yet many women begin to fade before then. Wrinkles appear and the complexion grows sallow. Dark rings surround the eyes, and headaches follow, with backaches and low spirits. The cause of this is simply need of blood nourishment. Good, pure blood is the life of a woman's beauty and health. It is good blood that brings the glow of health to the cheek, brightness to the eye, and elasticity to the step, and the general happiness of good health. When woman feels faded and worn out her blood simply needs attention, and the one unrivalled and sure remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which supply the rich, red blood that repairs the waste, dispels disease and restores the brightness and charm of womanly health.

Mrs. H. G. Hart, Winnipeg, Man., is one of the thousands of sufferers who owe her present health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I had suffered for a long time, not knowing what the trouble was, I had doctored with several doctors, but only seemed to be growing worse. The last doctor I had told me the trouble was anaemia, that my blood was turned to water and that my condition was serious. But his treatment, like the rest, did me no good. I got so bad that if I excited myself, or went up stairs, I was completely out of breath and felt as if I was going to suffocate. My heart would palpitate violently, and at times I would suffer with terrible pains from it. I had a yellow complexion, my lips had lost their color, and I had no appetite and could not eat. I grew so weak I could hardly drag myself along, and my feet seemed to have weights on them. I was so completely run down that I thought I was going into consumption. At this time a friend urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes I found my health improving, and after taking the Pills for a couple of months I was entirely well, and have since enjoyed the best of health, and I feel that I can never say enough in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FARMER'S WIFE TELLS HER STORY

FOUND A CURE FOR ALL HER ILLS IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She was tired, worn-out and nervous and suffered from Rheumatism, but two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Hawthorne, Ont. (Special).—Mrs. T. G. Alexander, wife of a well-known farmer living near here, adds her testimony to that of the thousands who have learned from their own experience that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Kidney Disease.

"I suffered for twelve years," Mrs. Alexander says, "My back ached, my sleep was broken and unrefreshing, I was nervous and tired and I was troubled with heart flutterings. Rheumatism developed and added to my suffering."

"I was in a very run-down, worn-out condition when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, but I am thankful to say they gave me relief almost from the first. Two boxes cured me completely."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys mean that all impurities are strained out of the blood. That means pure blood all over the body and the banishment of that tired, heavy feeling and those pains and aches that impure blood brings.

There are many other acts which space will not permit mention of.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved, if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

Stop That Limp

Change that limping, useless horse into a sound, healthy horse, willing and eager to do a good day's work. Don't let a Spavin, Curb, Splint, Sprain, Kingbone or any other Lameness keep your horse in the stable. Cure it with

Kendall's Spavin Cure

It cures without leaving a scar, blemish or white hairs—because it does not blister.

Delightful
"There are many delightful dishes to be made from left-over food." "That's nice," responded the young bride. "There's a great deal of food left over since I began doing the cooking."—Kansas City Journal.

Globe Trotters Plus
A number of tourists were recently looking down the crater of Vesuvius. An American gentleman said to his companion:

"That looks a good deal like the infernal regions."

An English lady, overhearing the remark, said to another:

"Good gracious, how these Americans do travel!"—Lippincott's.

They Cleanse While They Cure.—The vegetable compounds of which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are composed, mainly dandelion and mandarin, clear the stomach and intestines of deleterious matter and restore the deranged organs to healthy action. Hence they are the best remedy for indigestion available to-day. A trial of them will establish the truth of this assertion and do more to convince the sinner than anything that can be written of these pills.

Amazing results have been achieved at the ultrapowerful Marconi wireless telegraph station near Pisa. Communication was established with stations in Ireland and Canada and Massachusetts in the East African Italian colony of Eritrea.

MINARD'S LINIMENT is the only Liniment asked for at my store and the only one we keep for sale.

All the people use it.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Saturday, July 1st, is Dominion
Day and a public holiday.

The foundation of the new Gleichen C.P.R. station is complete and the building will start at once.

The Indian Agency just now, is truly a beauty spot, with its lawns, trees, flowers and vegetable gardens. When you feel homesick an hour there is a sure cure.

E. Uch, who presented Pitcher Wilson with the best pipe in his store for making the first home-run, states that he will repeat the gift to whoever makes the next in the League matches.

While in Calgary for the Fair it will be a good opportunity to consult the Taube Optical Company about your eyes, at their office in the Elma Block, 132 Eighth Ave. E., or at their Exhibit in the Agricultural Building at the Fair Grounds.

R. L. Borden, leader of the Dominion Liberal - Conservative party will speak in Calgary next Monday, June 28th. Arrangements have been made with the C.P.R. to permit all persons within a distance of 100 miles to travel there and return at single rate and one-third.

Owing to the separation of the parishes of Gleichen and Strathmore, the Rev. T. Mitten, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Gleichen, will hold regular morning and evening services, at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m., every Sunday, and conduct Holy Communion on the first Sunday of the month at morning service.

Saturday last Scout-master Rev. Mitten took a good muster of the Gleichen scout patrols down to the North Camp. They started off in the morning about 10.30 and spent a most enjoyable and healthy day bivouacking on the banks of the Bow. During the day scouting tactics and sentry guard manoeuvres were indulged in with the attendant beneficial results. After some bathing and swimming exercises in the backwash of the river they returned homeward, delighted with the day's outing.

D. Wilson, Gleichen's baseball pitcher, has more credit coming to him than all the other players and the people of this town are more than pleased that he has been able to secure all of the prizes offered so far. At the Bassano game he won a Stetson hat, offered by Ernest R. Muir of Bassano, a box of cigars from the Gleichen Diamond Cafe and the best pipe in E. Uch's popular Gleichen "Hub". Wilson is farming seven miles from town and while the local team supply him with a man each time he is away from home on ball business, it must be admitted he is the mainstay of the team and all the boys are willing to admit the fact.

Dr. W. Rose is quite indignant over the remarks made by Mr. Christoffenson and published in the Call in last week's issue and denies the truth. He has asked the Call to print the following statement which he dictated: "Elder came to the private hospital the day after Lord went in and the rash did not develop for two days after. Therefore, it was not definitely known what he was suffering from, and as Lord was already there it was impossible to take him out as the place was placarded. It is not true as stated last week that this was not done and that I had not fulfilled all the requirements of the health act." Dr. Rose also states that if Mr. Christoffenson's house was quarantined he wonders how it was Messrs. Lord and Christoffenson were in town the same date and the date after it was placarded. He says Mr. Lord was here on the 8th and 9th and Mr. Christoffenson on the 9th.

Anyone passing by the Young People's Institute on Monday evening could not have but noticed a scene of unusual activity. A "bee" had been called and about nine embryo knights of the hammer formed a very "busy bee" and ere the sun's rays had departed some excellent work had been accomplished. It is a most praiseworthy effort on the part of the executive committee to economise in this respect, and a sure means to a successful end. It will be much appreciated by that body if volunteer help will come forward to drive a nail or saw a plank for the benefit of the Institute, and as the project, which is a local necessity in every town, is apparently being snubbed by those who should be first to help, it behoves all who have a thought for the betterment of citizenship to be firm in the resolve to overcome all obstacles and, however little their help may be, give it with that intention. Another "bee" is called for Saturday night; but, in the meantime, anyone who has an hour to spare their help is needed and appreciated.

ADVICE TO THE BUSY HOUSEKEEPER:

Wilson Dress-hooks

If you wish to improve the appearance of your garments and avoid the embarrassment of an unhooked and gaping skirt or waist, don't fail to try Wilson Dress-hooks.

We recommend them, as they can't come unhooked accidentally, are flat and invisible and will outwear several garments. Can't rust or crush in the laundry. Not like hooks and eyes or snap fasteners.
